

ADAMS WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR OF BISBEE

THE DEMOCRATS FIND A STRONG OPPONENT FOR TONKIN AND MAYOR J. S. WILLIAMS

No, little one, the municipal campaign in Bisbee is not forgotten, nor is it asleep. The advent of a home candidate for governor in Bisbee and the fact that all the Democratic politicians have since been so enthusiastic about him that they have had no time for anything else, accounts for the slight hesitation that has occurred in the far-fare attending the progress of strictly city politics—but it is due for immediate revival. Once more the air is to be filled with resonant names in connection with the mayoralty, the council, the street department and the dog pound.

That this is to be so was determined yesterday, when it was announced that L. C. E. Adams had been prevailed upon by a number of prominent local Democrats to run for Mayor. Mr. Adams is the champion big noise maker in the west—more than that, the noise he makes is the noise worth while, the result getting kind. If he is coming out for mayor, it is a safe bet that everybody is going to know about it and that before the campaign is much nearer the election date, a Adams enthusiasm will be as popular as ice cream and soda water at a July Sunday school picnic.

At this time there is no prospect that Mr. Adams will have opposition in the Democratic primaries. Doc, Ball and Walter Hubbard have both resisted the approaches of friends and party enthusiasts who have tried to get them to go into the race. They are willing to concede that they could make good mayors, but both have about all they can handle in conducting their private enterprises, which are also of considerable importance to the community. Gus Hanger is in like frame of mind, with the mayoralty no temptation. Joe Muhlen, L. C. Shattuck and others of prominence have likewise refused to consider. So did Mr. Adams for a considerable time, but when all the guns that had been trained upon others were concentrated and turned upon his quarters, he is said to have gracefully surrendered.

Should Adams be the Democratic primary choice, it is said he will face Mayor J. S. Williams as the Republican candidate and W. R. Tonkin, as the Republican Progressive candidate. All three are strong men, with the Republican split, however, giving Adams the best end of it.

BISBEE PICTURES AT ROYAL THEATRE

Great crowds at the Royal theater yesterday afternoon and last night, despite the bad weather, attested the large interest in the presentation of the moving pictures of Bisbee.

This afternoon and tonight, these special pictures will be seen again at the Royal. People who saw them yesterday numbered up in the thousands. There will be more today and tonight. Throughout the running of the reels there were recognitions of familiar figures, whispered comment prevailing throughout the house. Thousands of people are shown.

Comment on the pictures last night was this: they were good. In some places the light that the picture machine had to work with was not of the best, but on the whole the pictures are excellent. Of their large local interest there is no question. All should see them either this afternoon or evening.

WINTER DISPLACES THE GLAD SPRING WITH FALL OF SNOW

SOME ALARM IS OCCASIONED FOR FRUIT—MORE SEVERE WAS LAST YEAR'S SNAP

And yesterday the weather arrived. The long delayed winter for which the old time prophets have been looking and prophesying the last several weeks blew in. It came without warning from summer skies.

Hardly had balmy breezes ceased overnight before wintry blasts succeeded, bringing overcoats and furs into prominence where had been but a day or two earlier new spring wear and straw hats. The ladies, fresh from spring opening shopping tours, were particularly peeved.

Along with the cold wind, snow drove in during the afternoon. It was true enough, a dispirited, bedraggled sort of a fall of the beautiful, but nevertheless it was not rain. In the night there were occasional flurries of more pronounced kind and the mountain tops and sides this morning are likely to show quite a little mantle of white.

Until two o'clock this morning it was not indicated that the freezing point would be reached. Neither was there promise of frost, there being sufficient moisture in the air and the ground to ward off this visitor. For which those with fruit trees will be thankful. They were alarmed yesterday afternoon over the prospects for a cold snap that would kill off the buds on the blossoming trees, and will not feel at ease until the present cold wave breaks. The latter occurrence will doubtless mark the permanent coming of spring weather.

It is recalled that, last year, with fruit even further advanced than at the present time, there was a cold snap still later in March which was attended by frozen ground and burst water pipes. There was then even greater alarm for the welfare of early growth, but the season proved nevertheless one of the best in its field of fruit this, was ever known in this section of Arizona.

NEGATIVE GETS AWARD IN DEBATE

The negative won the debate at the Y. M. C. A. last night. For the affirmative, Krockner, Booz and Davidson. For the negative, Wilson, Spicer and Vaughan. Mr. Casey presided as judge and critic.

The subject for debate was: Resolved, "That a single six year term for president of United States." Some very good arguments were offered and from results it looks as though the debating club was becoming very popular. The next topic for debate will be: Resolved, "That Panama Canal tolls be made uniform for all the nations." The probable debaters will be picked in the near future.

It is the chief idea of the Y. M. C. A. to establish a club that will afford every man a chance to learn the art of public speaking. It is hoped that there will be a number of clubs formed for like purpose with result of interesting debates. Every man is urged to attend the Y. M. C. A. meetings and there decide for himself whether he would be satisfied to join or not. If you have no place to go on Wednesday night, you are tendered a cordial invitation to attend.

PLUMBERS WRECK TIME AND CYCLES IN HEAD ON MIX

MORE GLORY ACHIEVED FOR THE SUICIDE CLUB—SPIKE HOGAN TRIUMPHS

Rival plumbing establishments clashed and smashed in front of the Miners score yesterday, and incidentally added further honors to the Suicide club's constantly expanding roll.

Spike Hogan, of the Leonard Koch plumbing shop, and Alex Davis, of Davis Bros. plumbers, were the star performers in the engagement, excepting two Indian motorcycles. Hogan had a single cylinder, which demolished the twin cylinder of the Davis house and was accounted to have scored some victory. Laurels of the Hogan side were further added to by the fact that he was unconscious when picked up, a distinct triumph by the way, and had to be carried home—score one more emphatic point.

Davis was unhurt, except for slight bruises, but his machine was decidedly damaged. Hogan was able to coast down a few hours after the accident. His machine was but little the worse for the collision, although much the lighter of the two. The accident occurred because Hogan was eating up space in the general direction of Brewery gulch, while Davis was cutting necks in Father Times' scythe cross lots in front of the Orpheum, headed down Brewery gulch. The smash came when both riders attempted to turn the corner at the same moment and in the same path.

POMPEII AND ITS DESTRUCTION WELL TOLD IN PHOTOPLAY

ADMIRABLE, HISTORIC PRODUCTION OF BULWER-LYTTON'S GREAT NOVEL.

The destruction of the iniquitous city of Pompeii, following closely the text of the novel "The Last Days of Pompeii," by Lord Bulwer-Lytton, was played last night at the Orpheum. Little did those who witnessed the admirable production realize that it was but a picture drama. For it was, it was, moreover, to the point where censure cannot be applied and where the criticism of either the text or the histrionic ability finds no lodging place.

In this day and time, when practically every novel, poem, drama, comedy and happening, past, present or future, is screened for the benefit of the thousands of people who patronize the picture houses, the patrons are liable to witness superb productions with a passivity begetting of ennui. The production of the wonderful tale of ancient and Grecian Pompeii, on the boat of Italy, shook this attitude from the shoulders of practically all present. It was a masterpiece in every conceivable way.

The drama takes the love of Glaucus, a rich young Grecian nobleman, for Ione, as the central plot and weaves a more realistic banner of ancient days about the piece than is contained in the text from which the photoplay was taken.

Of the actors in the production, the names of whom are unknown, each was a star. The part of the little flower girl, Nydia, was, perhaps, the most difficult to play, embodying the artificial condition of blindness and also the soul suffering agonies of a Cleopatra or a Carmen. The beautiful tone, in carriage, pose and action, seemed to breathe the ancient spell of the Greeks, as told by the many chroniclers, past and present. Arctanes, the Egyptian priest of the cast of Isis, was another admirable part in the production, while the part of Glaucus, the hero, was the easiest male role among the principles.

Of the mechanical perfection of the film too much can not be said. From the pictures of the streets of Pompeii, the rich gardens, baths, temples and houses to the gladiatorial amphitheater and the final destruction of the city by the volcano, Vesuvius, each and every scene, created a different atmosphere and gave the audience a distinct, thrill and pleasure.

The feature film will be shown again this afternoon and evening at the Orpheum. It has had a long run at the Mason Opera House in Los Angeles, where 50 cents was the cheapest seat in the theater. The contracts signed by the theatre managers in acquiring this photo-drama prevents them from charging less to their patrons, but at any price this picture is well worth the while of the man, woman or child, who wishes some interesting, and at the same time, highly instructive diversion.

YOUR FRECKLES

Need Attention in February and March or Face Will Stay Covered

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish it to look well the rest of the year. The February and March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all summer unless removed. Now is the time to use chine—double strength.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.
